"Is your name WiFi? Because I'm feeling a really strong connection, but I'm pretty sure someone else is using you too."

"You know you've spent too much time in 3dx Chat when you try to 'Right-Click' your real-life partner to see if they have any better poses available."

"Is that a lag spike in your pocket, or are you just happy to see my new skin?"

"I tried to use a 're-rezzing' animation on my toaster this morning. Turns out, that doesn't fix burnt toast."

Pixelmate – DelainGer

Today, we're sitting down with a woman who proves that intelligence is the ultimate aphrodisiac and that some fantasies are best served with a pair of high heels.

We meet DelainGer: A 46-year-young (real) teacher with piercing blue eyes, blonde hair, and a zest for life that transcends the digital realm. Whether she's grading papers or hitting the virtual dance floor, she does it with a style that is unapologetically hers.

PIXELBOY Interview with DelainGer

PIXELBOY: DelainGer, it's a pleasure. How long have you been roaming the world of 3DX Chat?

DelainGer: With a few breaks here and there, I've been around for about 8 years now.

PIXELBOY: When you're not teaching or logged into the game, what does your "offline" life look like?

DelainGer: I'm quite active! I play golf, enjoy going for a run, and I definitely love shopping. And, let's be honest, I enjoy a bit of "self-care" for my body here and there too. 😊

PIXELBOY: You've mentioned you're attracted to both men and women. Is that a core part of your journey here?

DelainGer: Yes, I'm bisexual. Part of that comes from some negative experiences I've had with men in the past. I've had affairs with both genders—some even happened at work!

PIXELBOY: So, what does it take to truly turn you on?

DelainGer: Intelligence. First and foremost. Without that, nothing happens. Beyond that, I need fantasy; I want someone who can surprise me. I'll admit looks matter to me, too. I like them tall, slim, and blonde—though blonde isn't a must, tall and fit definitely are. Above all, they must be well-groomed. That applies to real life and the game.

PIXELBOY: So, groomed and stylish is the golden rule?

DelainGer: Absolutely. "Trashy," cheap, or arrogant is a total turn-off for me. However, if someone creates a high-quality RP (Roleplay) avatar, I find that fascinating. I'm a bit "bipolar" in that sense—I love the contrast.

PIXELBOY: Do you like anal sex?

DelainGer: When it's really hot and horny, I like to offer him my tight ass.

PIXELBOY: Speaking of fascination, what are your remaining fantasies?

DelainGer: To be honest, I don't have many fantasies left! I've tried most things: public sex, younger partners, sub-dom games... Even a few threal-life throuples. Nowadays, my fantasies are the ones that are hard to pull off—like sex with a demon or an alien! [Laughs]. But really, I just love RP, both in the game and in reality.

PIXELBOY: So, a clever user with green skin and alien eyes might actually have a shot with you?

DelainGer: Let's just say they're welcome to try. But DelainGer: I liked the idea of "working" as a model, but I honestly never expected the process to be this huge and elaborate!

PIXELBOY: Do you have a story from your real life as a teacher that our readers would enjoy?

DelainGer: Here's a true one: Once, we had to open the locker of a student who had left the school. Inside, there was a photo of me pinned up. It wasn't a nude, but he had clearly taken it secretly. I was wearing white patent leather heels—10cm stilettos—matching a white blouse.

it depends entirely on how they approach me.

PIXELBOY: Any advice for a future lover on how to start that conversation?

DelainGer: Be creative AND respectful. If someone starts with "Hey, sweetie" or "Hey, little one," they can forget it immediately.

PIXELBOY: What does being in the magazine mean to you?

PIXELBOY: How did that make you feel? It's not something you expect every day.

DelainGer: At first, I was indignant. But after a while... I felt a little bit proud. :)

PIXELBOY: Where can the community find you if they want to say hello?

DelainGer: I hop around quite a bit! You might find me dancing at the Futa clubs or just lounging lazily on the beach at Cheating Wives.

PIXELBOY - Meeting Delain was an incomparable experience. It is extremely rare to encounter such a passionate and sensual woman with such depth. We wish DelainGER many more unforgettable moments, both in real life and online.

GeorgiTheDJ

The Voice of Babylon - Why GeorgiTheDJ is the Pulse of the Virtual Dancefloor

There are many performers in the digital world, but only a few really manage to stand out. GeorgiTheDJ is one of those rare forces of nature. From the moment she opens the mic, it's clear: this isn't just a stream; it's an experience. Boasting a voice that can only be described as "pure fire" and an energy that radiates through the screen, Georgi has quickly become a role model as a DJ in 3dx Chat.

She carries the aura of a high-level artist, yet remains incredibly humble, kind-hearted, and approachable. We sat down with the woman behind the "Voice of Babylon" to talk about her 16-year legacy, the secret to the perfect "DJ Voice," and why trance is more than just music.

PIXELBOY Interview with GeorgiTheDJ

PIXELBOY: How long have you been part of the 3DX world, and have we perhaps heard you on the mic in other digital realms before?

GEORGiTheDJ: I've been in 3DX full-time for about eight months now. A couple of years ago, I dipped my toes in, but I had strong ties to another virtual world where I'd been a member—and a DJ—for 16 years! I still play there from time to time, but 3DX is now the place I choose to be. I started learning to DJ back in 2009, and it just went from there.

PIXELBOY: You also DJ in real life?

GEORGiTheDJ: Yes! I had my own mobile DJ business for a time and eventually held a residency at a private club in my hometown.

PIXELBOY: Your hosting is legendary. What's your secret to creating that unique party vibe?

GEORGiTheDJ: It starts with research. I look for excellent, high energy, feel good tracks and mashups then plan the set. I start with high energy, but not maximum. I layer in tracks with known lyrics and hard-hitting drops, then level it out before going full throttle toward the end! But the real secret is the voice. You have to make the guests feel welcome and included. I have fun with people in local chat, but I'm careful not to talk over the important parts of the tracks. When I started in 2009, I didn't speak on the mic at first—it was scary! But over the years, you gain confidence and find your "DJ Voice."

PIXELBOY: It's truly impressive. As a single DJ, you're alone with a mic, yet the result is amazing.

GEORGiTheDJ: It's not easy, but it's a lot of fun once you've mastered it. You eventually find yourself.

PIXELBOY: Trance seems to run through your veins. What makes that sound so special?

GEORGiTheDJ: Trance is like a drug to me—it causes a natural high in my brain. I especially love Vocal Trance. Sometimes the chord changes, the riffs, and the emotion just catch you in a moment and touch you deeply.

PIXELBOY: Who are your biggest influences?

GEORGiTheDJ: I started with the early oos icons like Ian Van Dahl, Fragma, and Binary Finary. Today, producers like Armin Van Buuren, Mark Sherry, and Technikal are very influential. It's incredible how classic trance tracks are still being reworked today.

PIXELBOY: We have to ask... what is the story about the "SweetJessica orgasm" song?

GEORGiTheDJ: (Laughs) That's Yakooza - French Kiss, released back in 2003. It's an original track with an incredible orgasm in it. SweetJessica just loves it!

PIXELBOY: "Babylon" — What inspired the name and the club?

GEORGiTheDJ: I ran a club called Babylon in my previous virtual world. I love the historical aesthetic of Babylon, and I wanted to mix that old-style look with a modern rave feel. There's something captivating about mixing the ancient with the modern.

PIXELBOY: Behind every great club is a team. Who is the Babylon crew?

GEORGiTheDJ: GEORGiTheDJ: The Paradise Team works so hard. Sweetjessica is the manager; she's a true treasure who handles the rotas, recruitment and the team working behind the scenes.

Then there's BlackBirdFeather, who built the location for us, and manages our greeters. They all make the magic happen.

PIXELBOY: What sets Babylon apart from the rest?

GEORGiTheDJ: We are a safe haven. We leave the drama—and the real-life at the door.

We don't do club politics. Our goal is to give people a place to forget their problems and serve them pure energy on a platter!

PIXELBOY: Who is Georgi when the music stops?

GEORGiTheDJ: I'm just hanging with friends, looking for new talent, or doing a bit of interior decoration! If I find an awesome DJ while I'm out, I'll usually try to recruit them for Babylon! (Laughs).

PIXELBOY: A few days ago, you played your first official gig as an official 3dx DJ at Fresco Club. Congratulations, Georgi! Were you nervous during the set? What was going through your mind?

GeorgiTheDJ: Honestly, the most nerve-wracking part was actually connecting to the stream. I was given the IP, port, and password, but I didn't have a chance to test them until 20 minutes before the soundcheck. I'm the type of person who prefers to verify everything well in advance to ensure a smooth technical start. Once the set began, my biggest challenge was following the advice I'd been given to "talk less"—I found it pretty hard to keep my mouth shut! [laughs] But everything clicked about 30 minutes into the test when I got the green light. Once I find my rhythm, the nerves disappear. I think it's healthy to feel a little bit of pressure; it keeps you sharp!

PIXELBOY: Any final words for your fans?

GEORGiTheDJ: Thank you for making me feel so welcome in 3DX. Your friendship means everything. Keep being your unique, extraordinary, and beautiful selves.

GeorgiTheDJ will be DJing constant at the following events:

You can find information about irregular or individual gigs in their profile.

- Wednesday Epsilon Club 9pm CET
- Saturday Babylon Club 3pm CET

PIXELBOY'S PERSPECTIVE:

Interviewing Georgi was a masterclass in professional digital entertainment. She manages to balance being a high-level artist with a grounded, friendly persona that instantly relaxes everyone in the room. She brings a "positive karma" to the 3DX world that is impossible to ignore.

🔥 We wish Georgi and the entire Babylon team nothing but the best

We will certainly be in the front row for her next sets!

Debug Your Desires

Dr. Alison Northfolk and Dr. Joe Kelley from the Sex Therapy Office will be advising Pixelboy and sharing tips, advice, funny stories and events in future issues. They are also the new and perfect expert duo on digital sex and pixelated orgasms.

A typical day at the office

8 am: Review all yesterday's clients and check inboxes for said clients.

9 am: Check diaries for all the therapists, make calls to them to check on the online times.

10 am: Offices open for business. My first client, a sexy lady, suffers from clit-itis, where her clitoris is in a state of readiness 24/7—really tough going for her. I help her with that condition and many poses. I have to move the 11 am and 12 noon appointments as this client's clitoris just won't release from its current state, needing to go down and help this case out. Finally, by 1:30 pm, we had a release.

Then my 2 pm client called in late; her Uber driver was a little horny, so she paid her fare with a swift BJ.

2:30 pm: The late client turns up and has cum in her hair (like Cameron Diaz in the film Something About Mary). We chatted about the random BJ as we were both recovering from some action the previous couple of hours. We now had two amazing clients leave the offices with smiles. This moves me on to the 3 pm interview for a therapist, Sarah Anderson (stripper and escort) wanting to find another string to her bow, so to say. The interview was intense; it was back and forth and lots of ins and outs, ending in her getting the job. She now shares her office with JaneMc. We discovered each other's kinks within the offices, tried many offices. I wanted to say, "WOW WOW WOW what an amazing interview."

5:30 pm: Alison turns up and helps three guys with sperm samples, checking for any issues the clients want sent for testing.

7:30 pm: I kiss my wife's lips, tasting a little salty cum on her lips, thinking and wondering how she gets the guys' samples so quick. I leave Alison to close the offices after she finishes her 9 pm fetish hour.

That was one day of the life of Dr. Alison Northfolk and Dr. Joe Kelley

*Anonymous user:
Dear doc, are black cocks really bigger and better?*

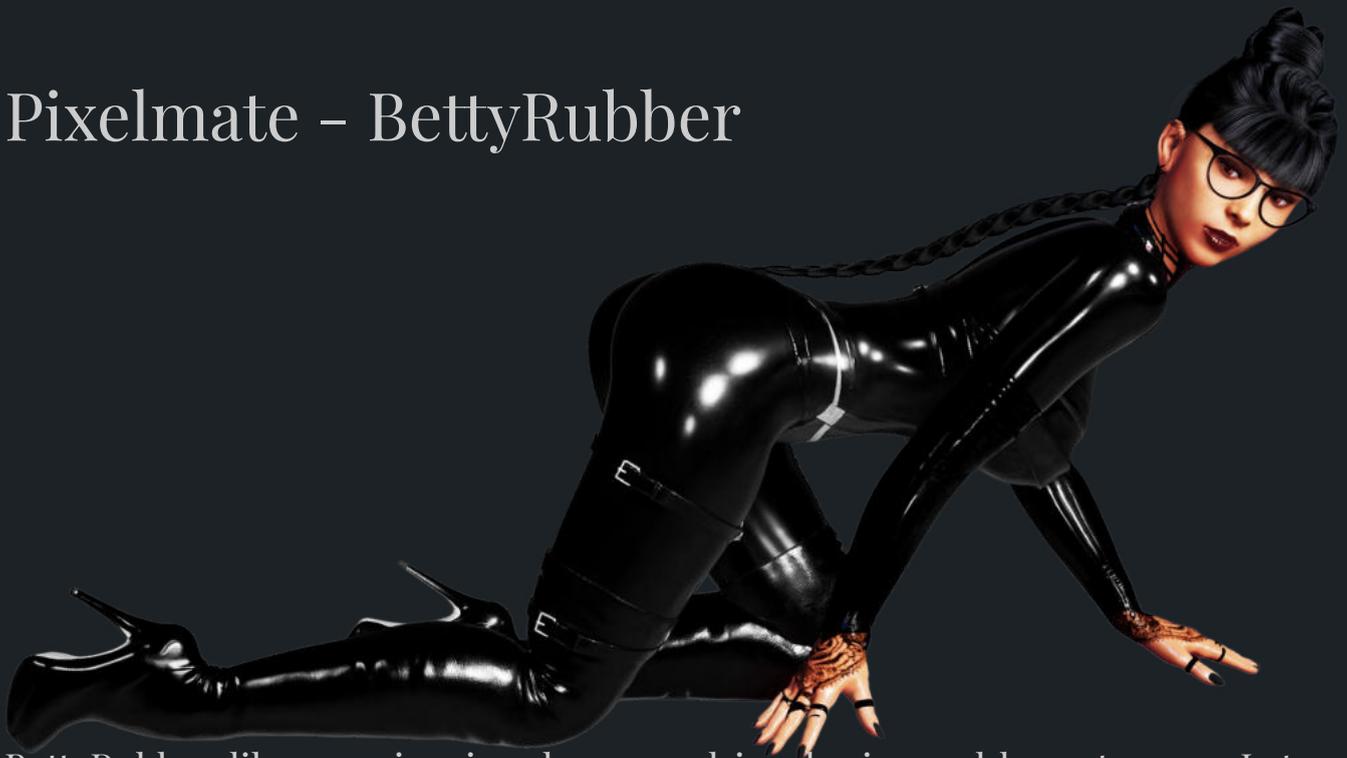

Dr. Alison Northfolk: 'Our team measured the penises of 20 people from different backgrounds and examined their movements, and we came to the clear conclusion that the penises here are the same size to the millimetre and move in the same way. Therefore, a clear .NO! "They are all the same."

User: Talky_Tina69: "Dear doctor, my partner never says a word during sex, he just stares at me with his eyes wide open and doesn't even blink. Am I doing something wrong?"

Dr. Joe Kelley: 'Don't worry, Tina. He's probably not shocked, he's probably just typing in the wrong window or doesn't have a hand free. In 3DX, silence is often not a sign of disinterest, but a sign that someone is busy with themselves or opening the fridge.'

Do you also have questions for the expert duo? You can contact Dr. Ali Norfolk and Dr. Joe Kelley directly on the Pixelboy Discord (link on the Homepage) or visit them in their practice in 3DX Chat. The Sex Therapy Office is open Monday to Friday during CET office hours.

Pixelmate – BettyRubber

BettyRubber likes movies, is a huge nerd in physics and loves to wear Latex, also in real and in public. A truly hot latex fetishist.

She's not just another face in the crowd, but a high-gloss phenomenon who has established her own physics theory in '3dx time'.

Interview with BettyRubber

PIXELBOY: How long have you been in 3DX Chat?

BettyRubber: I kinda lost track of time, but it's been more than four years for sure. With the 3dx time dilation, it feels like an eternity, (laughs).

PIXELBOY: You mentioned 3dx time dilation. Could you elaborate on that?

BettyRubber: Since I love physics, I have a theory about it! Like I said, a month in 3dx feels like a full year in real life. Everything happens so quickly here.

My hypothesis is based on Einstein's General Relativity. In real life, gravity slows time down relative to an observer. I theorize there's a big black hole at the center of 3dx, and its gravitational pull affects how time moves. This is why time for us slows down here in relation to real life. People meet and get to know each other faster, start and end relationships—even one-night stands—more quickly, marry faster, and divorce more quickly. How time dilation work is depicted very well in the movie Interstellar.

PIXELBOY: That's a fascinating theory. Shifting gears, how do you spend most of your digital time here? Clubbing, dancing? Are you creative?

BettyRubber: Yeah, I spend most of my time going dancing to goth/industrial clubs.

PIXELBOY: Only goth and industrial?

BettyRubber: I'm primarily into rock and metal, but I also love goth and industrial music. And I have a guilty pleasure with disco, Motown, and funk, (laughs). I have a lot of friends who are amazing DJs.

PIXELBOY: What is your sexual orientation? Are you lesbian or bi?

BettyRubber: I am bisexual, but I've been leaning heavily toward girls lately.

I am also attracted to guys, but it's hard to find cool ones here; most are just dicks, hahaha. I mean, most guys just want to hook up, which is fine, but I find girls more interesting to interact with. Besides, I love the female body and its sensuality.

PIXELBOY: What do guys need to do to be less of a "dick," in your opinion?

BettyRubber: If they show more genuine interest and have something interesting to say. I'm a sapiosexual; I get turned on by intelligence.

PIXELBOY: Like knowing about physics, for example?

BettyRubber: Oh yeah, that's a big plus. I can talk for hours about science and put people to sleep, haha. Looks and fashion are important too, but a big brain definitely makes my juices flow. Music is a must as well.

PIXELBOY: Why the strong interest in physics?

BettyRubber: I've always been interested in science, especially in the last ten years. Like most people, I'm trying to answer the big questions—why are we here, where are we coming from, how was the universe created? I couldn't find those answers in religion, for instance, so the more I understand science, the closer I feel to answering them.

PIXELBOY: Are you in an open marriage?

BettyRubber: Yes, we have a very healthy and open marriage. We communicate very openly and trust each other fully. That's the key to our success as a couple. If I want to get naughty with someone, I tell my wife, and then I usually have to send her pictures, (laughs).

PIXELBOY: In terms of kink, is your marriage D/s (Dominant/submissive)?

BettyRubber: My wife is a Domme; she loves having 'pets' to play with. But between us, we have a flexible power dynamic. I am a bottom, but not a submissive. I'm too much of a rebel to be a sub, (laughs).

I know what I want and I usually get it. If I feel like being fucked hard one day, I ask for it. However, sometimes I feel like being a bit more dominant... it depends on my mood that day.

PIXELBOY: You have fantastic latex photos in your gallery. Why is latex your biggest kink?

BettyRubber: It's hard to explain, but if you've worn latex in real life, you'll understand. It's like a second skin; it gives you such a powerful sensation and feel. Not only does it look good, but wearing latex empowers you. I love the feel, the smell, and the look. Everything is perfect when wearing very tight and shiny latex. I've made a few friends completely latex-crazy too, and my wife also became a huge fan because of me, (laughs). I also go to latex fetish parties.

PIXELBOY: Oh wow, that sounds hot and breathtaking. Back to your digital life: What makes you weak?

BettyRubber: Ooooff, a sexy girl wearing latex with a functioning brain between her ears.

PIXELBOY: And for a guy?

BettyRubber: For a guy... hmmm... he needs to be extra smart and dress well. For a guy to make me weak, he needs to know how to entice me, how to win me over with intelligence and wit. Talking about music is a good start. Or physics, of course, (laughs). I hate the typical message, "Hi sexy, you look good." It makes me yawn, (laughs).

PIXELBOY: Do you also work as a stripper here?

BettyRubber: Yes, I do. I love it. I love teasing and flirting with people. I'm a big teaser.

PIXELBOY: Where can people find you?

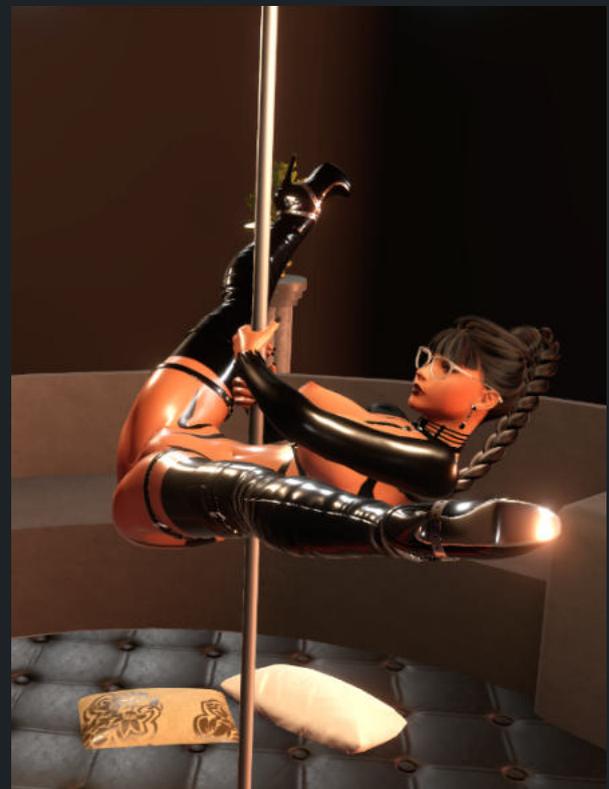

BettyRubber: My favorite room is Sexbeat. My dear friend Elletra hosts it every Thursday evening (EST). I used to strip at Velvet Vixens, and other favorite rooms are The Vault and Club Hel.

PIXELBOY'S perspective:

BettyRubber is proof that you can be the hottest person in the room and the smartest at the same time. In a world of superficial interactions, she seeks depth – enveloped in a layer of shiny black rubber. We were blown away after the shoot. You could tell from her character that she had spent a lot of time in the editor, and the effort was clearly worth it. On top of that, she has such an open and positive spirit behind the black latex that you immediately feel comfortable in her aura and forget the time.

We wish Betty unforgettable beautiful moments, lots of hot lust and the smartest and hottest physics professors.

Roleplaying – Make the Fun last longer

Text by LenaG

Lets talk about phenomena that happens in every virtual chat and in any online game having social aspect – Role Playing. Yes, it's those two letters that you could see on some people's profiles, and even room tags. And believe us, we would talk about things you most likely never heard about, because role playing in our virtual reality differs from what many people used to, because what we call RP is a specific way to play that even geekiest geeks and champions of pens and dice never heard of!

Marvel of roleplaying in 3dx is immersing in the virtual world of lust, and being able to interact with your friends on the level the game doesn't allow you to, filling the gaps with your imagination.

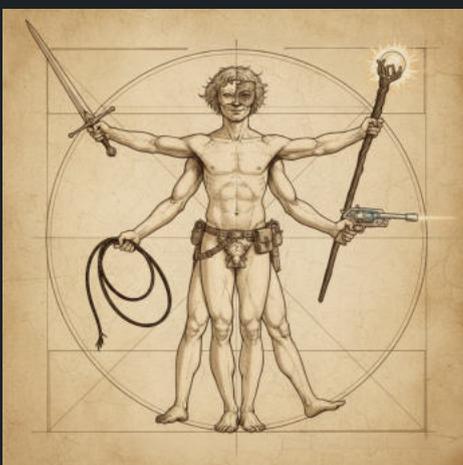

But wait, what is roleplaying after all? There are many ways to explain the same approach. It's literally 'playing the role' but whom do we play? And here it may differ from something that may be alien to us: a vampire-demon-angel-hellhound-dragon-zombie-horse-cat girl, to just an escort girl visiting a strip club... or a journalist of the magazine!

No matter what some people may tell you, kids playing “the shop” and “selling” pebbles for leaves, using them as banknotes – are also roleplaying. We talked with some people who play this game for more than 5 years and most of them will agree that deep immersion and some role play keep them afloat and forms their best memories: from the moments how, they were “working as bartender” in one room or organized a wedding to a friend. Despite its simplicity, roleplay has a reputation that scares people away. The fear usually comes from a few common misconceptions: “it’s cringe”, “I’m not creative enough”, “I’ll embrace myself, “I need to learn tomes of rules”, “I need to be vampire-demon-angel-werewolf-orc futa”.

But let us to reassure you: playing a role, running away from routine is a miracle for everyone. If you wish to try it, no need to jump in to heavy RP places, you may visit bars, art galleries (yes, we have couple!). There are gatekeepers and drama engines in every community, but only people who are keeping each other entertained on professional level may make your time in our time together truly remarkable.

PIXELBOY:

Role-playing games are the operating system of the imagination. They transform a sandbox of code and textures into a stage for human desires, dramas and connections.

Stripper Diary

Excerpt from the secret diary of the stripper JustJasmine

Innocent college student by day and naughty stripper at night.
Works at: Heavens Nights and YGFOM

Dear Diary,

The weather outside is still freezingly cold, but inside the club it is nice and hot and that is hot in two ways.

Yesterday something a little more unconventional happened, a man and woman walked in the club together. She, a very pretty brunette was wearing this gorgeous emerald green dress and dreamy Louboutin heels below it, he, a blonde man, was dressed a little more on the casual side compared to her a varsity jacket, jeans, t-shirt and some LV sneakers. There is nothing unusual about that necessarily but she was clearly in the lead walking in with a determined vibe around her.

They walked right up to my stage and sat down, I started my act and that is when I started to really notice the sort of “power dynamic” the two of them had going on. She kept handing him bills that he would then in turn give to me by sliding them into my tiny string panties. It did not take long for her to get me all naked before she signaled me over to her. As I approached she leaned forwards and whispered in my ear that she wanted to have me give her husband a sexy lapdance. I of course took the offer and let my nails slide across her leg as I walked away from her and climbed into her husband’s lap. Facing away from him I started to rub my ass all over his crotch and I placed his hands on my exposed perky tits. A little while later her husband was all hot and bothered and I could clearly see that she was as well, not to ignore the obvious arousal of myself of course.

I gently got off his lap and walked back over to his wife, leaning in and with a seductive voice I whispered in her ear “Would you like to make this moment a bit more special?” she almost audibly gulped and took me off on my offer, pressing a wad of cash into my hands after which I took them both by the hand and led them backstage.

Once we arrived backstage I led him into a private room and sat him down on the edge of the bed. She sat herself down on the sofa next to the bed and crossed her legs looking at me and him as if she was about to judge or grade us. I was still naked from the striptease I just gave them so, after a few moments of being lost in her almost judgemental look I slowly climbed on top of his lap and pushed him into the bed. My hands found the buckle of his belt and opened it followed by my taking off his pants and underwear as he started taking off his jacket and shirt. As I sat on top of him with his thick cock between my lower lips I could feel myself getting wetter by the second, I slowly started grinding myself against his thick slightly throbbing cock. After a bit of grinding I could not help myself any longer and I raised my bum off his lap and slowly sat down on his cock, letting it slide all the way inside of me before beginning to bounce on top of it. Moaning loudly as it kept sliding in and out of me deeply, I looked over my shoulder as I rode this wonderfully thick cock and saw his wife was masturbating just as hard as I was riding her husband.

After rounds and rounds of hot, sexy, intimate sex and more orgasm than I can count, I collapsed on top of his chest, my legs shaking and my breathing heavy. I rested my head on his chest hearing his very fast heartrate and looked over to his wife who was also panting and had slightly shaking legs from her own orgasms from watching us. A little bit of time passed and we all got dressed and left the room, I showed them out and “clocked” out of work. The last thing I can remember of the night is that some of the girls from the club and me after work all went to this big party at a Babylon club. The party was so good I barely remember getting home.

Villa Chiaroscuro

The Sanctuary of Shadows and Light

Sometimes, finding a true holy relic is a rarity. As our editorial team hopped through countless spaces across the digital and architectural spectrum in search of inspiration, our team stumbled upon a private residence that made us pause, whose sight captivated us, and whose history drew us in.

The private, carefully guarded property of the renowned photographer DonChapel.

Nestled behind a jagged mountain wall and a vast sea that shields the house from curious glances, with an incomparable view.

The villa itself, a breathtaking and almost awe-inspiring example of Tuscan architecture, carries a history as layered and rich in contrasts as the painting technique of the same name after which it was named. It was formerly in the shady possession of two obscure Mafia figures. They mysteriously vanished into thin air, their traces scattered like dust in the wind.

DonChapel, known for his keen eye for beauty in decay and his unwavering commitment to historical authenticity, acquired the remnants of this once magnificent structure for next to nothing. It was a purchase that required more vision than finances. The ensuing years were a laborious act of love and restoration. With a team of highly specialized builders, he reconstructed the estate on its original, solid foundations – detail by detail.

Today, Villa Chiaroscuro stands not just as a restored building, but as a luminous masterpiece of modernization that seamlessly blends with historical preservation.

It is a living testament to Chapel's unconventional taste and his deep respect for architectural heritage.

Every corner of the villa seems to reflect the essence of "Chiaroscuro" – the dramatic use of light and shadow – making it a fitting refuge for a master of photography. It is as if the villa itself breathes his art, a backdrop as unique and evocative as the art DonChapel creates.

Like shadow and light, the villa has two sides:

The villa level embodies exchange, relaxation, and tranquility. It is a space where visitors can freely enter and absorb the atmosphere. It has a living area, a garden with a pool, guest rooms, a built-in sauna with a bathroom, and much more.

The subterranean level, deliberately hidden, marks a distinct but concealed transition.

More subdued and structured, it explores themes of trust, consensus, and lust, all in a chic, controlled, and unmistakably adult environment.

The villa occasionally opens its doors to the public. In this case, the BDSM code of conduct strictly applies.

The owner shares this house with his submissives, who can feel very honored to live with him in his home.

Further information about DonChapel and his work can be found here on his homepage: Chapel's Lens

Pixelmate – RomyAndrea

A natural blonde with green eyes and curves designed to turn heads, she is more than just a digital beauty—she is a woman who knows exactly what she wants.

We sat down with the self-proclaimed exhibitionist to discuss her desires, her complex relationship history, and why she prefers a well-tailored suit over a "primitive" approach.

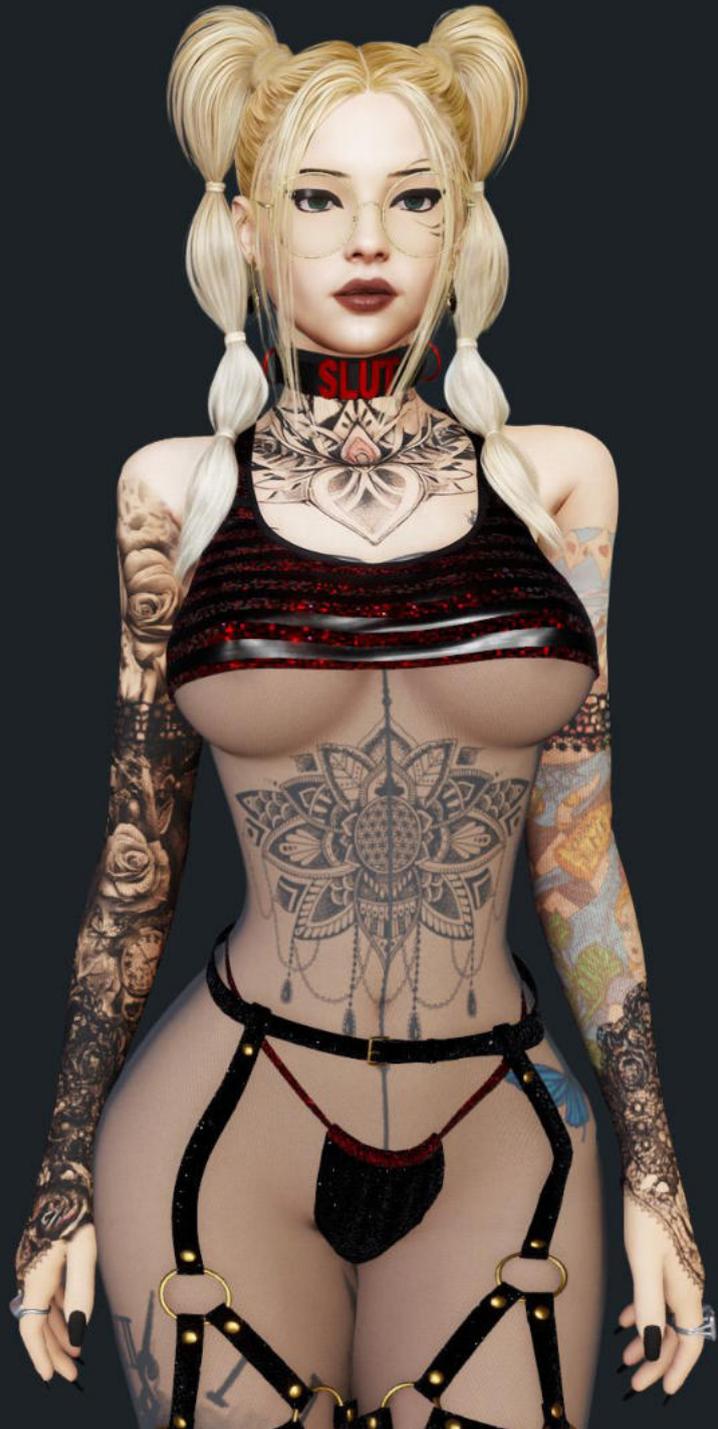

PIXELBOY Interview with RomyAndrea

PIXELBOY: Romy, looking at your presence here, one has to wonder: are you generally submissive, or is that more a matter of your current mood?

RomyAndrea: I definitely enjoy being led. I like to be taken, if you know what I mean. I also have a very strong exhibitionist side. I love showing off, teasing both men and women. I enjoy playing with that "slutty" image while maintaining a certain distance.

PIXELBOY: That's a tantalizing mix. What truly turns you on or makes you weak in the knees?

RomyAndrea: Experience and charm. I'm not into guys who just want to fuck me on the spot. Being properly seduced is beautiful. And—let's be honest—I'm a bit sexist there: large, well-proportioned "assets" definitely do it for me! But I'm also drawn to people who fall completely outside my usual "schema." It's not just about looks; it's about the connection.

PIXELBOY: You've mentioned a diverse history. Is your "target group" primarily female?

RomyAndrea: It's both. I spend a lot of time with men, but I've been married three times—once to a woman in her 30s and once to a woman in her 50s. Currently, my dream is a stable relationship with two or three older men who all know about each other. I like steady connections, I just happen to like having several of them at once.

PIXELBOY: Where do you find your ultimate "kick" in this digital world?

RomyAndrea: Oral sex is a huge turn-on for me. But ultimately, I need to feel close to the person.

I want them to take the lead and show me the way, whether that's being gentle or a bit rougher, depending on what they need in that moment.

PIXELBOY: For those looking to find you, where and when are you most active?

RomyAndrea: You'll find me at Cheating Wives, BBC Clubs, Sin World, or just hanging out at the beach and various music clubs—I love Rock. I'm definitely online more during the winter months than in the summer.

PIXELBOY: Final tip for the hopefuls out there: what's the best way to approach you?

RomyAndrea: Be friendly and stylish! I find crude sexual remarks or "dick pics" absolutely repulsive. A well-groomed man in a suit turns me on infinitely more than a "primitive hard-on."

PIXELBOY: "Thank you so much for the time you gave us to portray such a lovely personality as you, Romy" ❤️
